

February 15, 2010

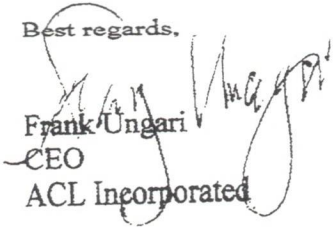

To: All ACL 750 & ACL 780 Combo Tester and ACL 800C Users

Re: 220/240 Adapters

Effective immediately ACL will no longer be packaging the ACL 220 Adapters with the above meters. We have found that frequency and cycles vary from country to country even if the countries that have the same voltage. Due to this we have found that the Universal Adapters have interfered with the function and accuracy of these meters.

We will continue to supply a 9-volt battery with every tester but if you prefer to use a power adapter we found it is best to use one purchased in your own country and for your convenience we will continue to build the adapter jack in the testers.

Best regards,

Frank Ungari
CEO
ACL Incorporated